

2012 National Order of the Arrow Conference

Key Information

When: July 30 – August 4, 2012

Where: Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan

Why: NOAC is a great way to experience many different trainings, shows, and events. This event encompasses lodges from all across the nation and can help you build lasting relationships. The following NOAC will not be held until 2015 when the Order of the Arrow will celebrate its 100th anniversary. There is no better time to attend a NOAC than 2012!

Cost: The total cost for the conference is $420.00. This includes your program fees for the week, food, and housing. This cost, however, does NOT include transportation costs, spending money for patches and trading post items, or money spent on side excursions and attractions that can be decided upon as a lodge.

New Conference Elements

- NOAC and NESAs are partnering to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the first Eagle Scout. NESAs will be involved in many aspects of the conference including special events and receptions, the NESAs hot air balloon at the Hodag, and a focus on reconnecting Eagle Scouts with NESAs.
- The heritage show will be moved to an outdoor venue to allow more people to participate and replaced with indoor concert by a rock band.
- The release of the Chapter Operations Guide and special training event for Chapter Chiefs and Chapter Advisers.
